

Data Structures and Algorithms

An Array stores elements in contiguous memory locations.

A Linked List stores elements using nodes connected by pointers.

A Stack follows the LIFO principle.

A Queue follows the FIFO principle.

Binary Search works on sorted arrays.